Opportunity to be a named sponsor of the 4th International Conference on Evidence-based Library and Information Practice (EBLIP4), May 6-11, 2007.

The international conference on evidence-based librarianship emerged in response to the growing interest in using the best available evidence to improve LIS practice. 2007 will mark the first time that this conference has been held in the USA. The first conference took place in the UK in 2001, the second in Canada in 2003 and the third in Australia in 2005. The conference has a strong international following and we expect that it will be of interest to all sectors of the library and information community. EBLIP4 will offer a forum for presenting high quality research and practice models as well as discussing the role and future of evidence-based practice in the profession. The main conference on May 6-9, 2007 will be followed by two days of continuing education on May 10-11.

The conference is hosted by the School of Information and Library Science at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill www.sils.unc.edu and the UNC Institute on Aging www.aging.unc.edu. The site of the conference will be the Sheraton Imperial Hotel in nearby Research Triangle Park www.sheratonrtp.com. The hotel is a 10-minute ride from the Raleigh Durham International Airport www.rdu.com.

You are invited to become a named sponsor of the conference. At this point, this type of sponsorship simply involves giving permission for your organization's name to be listed as a sponsor on conference publicity, including the website and conference program, and informing your members about the conference. There is no financial obligation for named sponsors. Information about how to become a financial supporter of the conference may be found at <http://www.eblip4.unc.edu/supporters.html>. Note that if you are a financial supporter that you will automatically be added to the list of named sponsors as well as the list of financial supporters.

To become a named sponsor only, please send an email with the information below to marshall@ils.unc.edu.
